2. Meet Student in a Video Conference Meeting

Students must keep their camera on throughout the duration of the test.

a. Instructions for One-on-One Administration:

   SAY Today, you will take the ELPAC Listening/Reading/Writing test. First, you need to share your screen with me. Then you will sign in to the test with the URL link I shared with you.

   Guide the student through the process of sharing the screen. If the test examiner determines that the student does not have enough computer familiarity to share the screen or log on to the testing interface, follow the logon instructions for the Speaking test that are located in the applicable Speaking Directions for Administration (DFA).

   A student’s Statewide Student Identifier (SSID) should be shared with the student in a confidential manner. If the student did not receive their SSID prior to the test session, provide it in the conference meeting chat by sharing through a direct message to the student.

   SAY Now that you have shared your screen, you will sign in to the testing interface.

b. Instructions for Group Administration:

   Copy the URL of the session link in a new web browser window. Then, share the sign-in window through the video conference meeting platform to guide the students on how to fill out each field (e.g., first name as listed in TOMS and SSID). The session ID will already be filled in from the session link that was provided.

   SSIDs should be shared with the students in a confidential manner. If a student did not receive their SSID prior to the test session, provide it in the conference meeting chat by sharing through a direct message to the student. Do not give out a student’s SSID verbally in a group administration nor share with the group via the chat function.

   SAY Today, you will take the ELPAC Listening/Reading/Writing test. After selecting the link I provided, you should see the sign in screen.

   Stop sharing your screen once you have confirmed all students were able to sign in.

   IMPORTANT: If a student needs help, it is recommended that a breakout room be created for the student and the proctor to eliminate distracting the other students in the group administration. The test examiner will continue to monitor the other students testing.

   If the test examiner determines that the student does not have enough computer familiarity to continue testing, the test examiner can reschedule a one-on-one administration with the student.
3. Have Student Log On to Web-based Student Testing Interface and Complete Sound and Video Playback Check

Student Interface

SAY Enter your first name and your SSID number. The session ID is already filled in for you. Select [Sign In].

10. Check that the student entered the student’s first name, followed by the student’s SSID number in the SSID field (figure 10).

11. Direct the student to select [Sign In].

SAY Is that information about you correct? Then select [Yes].

12. Verify the student information is correct on the Is This You? screen (figure 11). If the information is incorrect, direct the student to select [No] and notify your ELPAC coordinator.

SAY Select the Reading/Listening/Writing test. Then you will wait for me to approve the test.
13. Direct the student to select the appropriate test and then approve the student’s test in the Test Administrator Interface (figure 12).

14. Test examiners should skip this camera and microphone access check by selecting the [X] in the upper corner of the pop-up box (figure 13).

15. Access the student approvals by selecting the [Approvals] button (figure 14).

   1 Prior to approval, select the [eye] icon in the See Details column to view the student’s settings for the current test. The check mark allows you to approve the test, and the “X” allows you to deny the test (figure 15).

   1 “Custom” in the See Details column indicates the student has been assigned test settings. Confirm that the correct test settings have been applied.

   • If the student’s test settings are incorrect, there are some specific settings that can be corrected immediately in the Test Administrator Interface. If you identify a test setting that needs to be added and you are not able to select the setting in the Test Administrator Interface, deny the student, contact the LEA ELPAC coordinator or site ELPAC coordinator to correct the test settings in TOMS, and test the student another day.

   1 Proceed with approving students to test.
